Celebrate the History and Traditions of Britain's Jewish Community on the European Day of Jewish Culture and Heritage Sunday 5 September 2004

You are invited to discover and enjoy the remarkable legacy of synagogue architecture and other Jewish contributions to British culture and society over 300 years.

Following the success of the past four years, selected historic synagogues in London and throughout the country will open their doors again, affording an insight into Jewish life and faith. You are offered a rare opportunity to see the fascinating interiors of unusual, mainly listed buildings, revealing a little-known aspect of Britain's architectural heritage.

An even greater number of synagogues will participate this year. Included are synagogues built in the 1700s onwards, where you can track British Jewry's migration across London and the UK, visiting some of the most beautiful and ornate examples of religious architecture created as the community began to flourish.

Choose from a wide range of cultural activities nationwide based on the European theme 'Judaism and Education', as well as special guided walks. Once again, London's East End welcomes you into its ever-popular historic synagogues while guided walks in the area will lead you through doors usually closed to the public.

Immerse yourself in the culture and heritage of Jewish East End life during a special 3-Day Residential Weekend. Explore Jewish family roots at a Genealogy Workshop; discover the beauty of Jewish calligraphy and try your hand at Hebrew script in a family workshop at Westminster Synagogue; marvel at priceless Hebrew illuminated manuscripts at the British Library; take your children to the Rosh Hashanah Workshop at the Jewish Museum in Camden; learn about the Czech Heritage at Northwood & Pinner Liberal Synagogue.

See the special preview of the 'Alfred Wolmark Rediscovered' Exhibition at the Ben Uri Art Gallery and Cyril Metliss's remarkable lino-cuts at Hendon United Synagogue. Enjoy the exhibitions at the Jewish Museums in London and Manchester. A wealth of Jewish experience awaits you all over the country.

Full national listings of sites and events appear inside this leaflet

SUNDAY 12 SEPTEMBER

Princes Road Synagogue, Liverpool, and Singers Hill Synagogue, Birmingham, will be open on Sunday 12

We look forward to welcoming you. Enjoy!

The European Day of Jewish Culture and Heritage

The European Day of Jewish Culture and Heritage was launched in the Alsace in 1996 by the B'nai B'rith Lodge in Strasbourg. It has since gathered momentum and today is organised by a partnership between B'nai B'rith Europe, the European Council of Jewish Communities and Red de Juderias de Espana (Route of Jewish Spain), and is included in the Council of Europe's project, "Europe - A Common Heritage".

This year 25 countries will be taking part.

British participation is being organised by B'nai B'rith UK. Founded in 1843 in New York, B'nai B'rith International is today one of the largest Jewish voluntary service organisations active in charitable, human rights and communal work worldwide. With its headquarters in Washington, B'nai B'rith has members in 58 countries, 27 of which, including the United Kingdom, are affiliated to B'nai B'rith Europe, based in Brussels. Members of B'nai B'rith discover and enjoy the pleasure of companionship, a wealth of social and cultural programmes and the satisfaction of working together for the benefit of others.

Throughout its existence B'nai B'rith has been sensitive and swift to respond to the changing needs of society and the principles of Benevolence, Brotherly (and Sisterly) Love and Harmony, laid down at its inception, are as relevant today as they were in the middle of the nineteenth century.

B'nai B'rith UK would like to acknowledge the contribution of Jewish Heritage UK, the aim of which is to promote the protection and preservation of Britain's Jewish material cultural heritage and to encourage public access to historic Jewish buildings and sites nationwide.

The organisers would also like to thank the B'nai B'rith UK Lodges for their generous support and all those who are making this Open Day possible by opening their buildings to the public and/or organising events.
